Dear Ms. Gallagher:

I want to take this opportunity to thank you and your staff for the cooperation and assistance provided to the reviewer from our office during the course of the Civil Rights Compliance Review of May 14-18, 2018. Enclosed is the final report on the review.

There are some compliance issues (deficiencies) identified in the report, which will require the development of a Corrective Action Plan (CAP). Please submit your CAP within 60 days of this letter. Please address each deficiency and include steps and time lines for the completion of all corrective actions and recommendations listed in the enclosed report.

Please submit your CAP in both hardcopy and, in an effort to comply with the Americans with Disabilities Act website accessibility, we also require the CAP to be submitted electronically as a Word document via Civil Rights Unit email (crb@dss.ca.gov).

We will provide a copy of your report to any individual who makes a valid Public Records Act (PRA) request. Our reports are considered public documents under the PRA. Once we approve your CAP, it becomes a public document as well. In addition, these documents are published on our Civil Rights Unit website (<http://www.cdss.ca.gov/inforesources/Civil-Rights/Compliance-Reports-and-Corrective-Action-Plans>).

IV. FACILITY ACCESSIBILITY FOR INDIVIDUALS WITH DISABILITIES

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) requires public accommodations to provide goods and services to people with disabilities on an equal basis with the rest of the general public. The goal is to afford every individual the opportunity to benefit from the services available. The federal regulations require that architectural and communication barriers that are structural must be removed in public areas of existing facilities when their removal is readily achievable; in other words, easily accomplished and able to be carried out without much difficulty or expense.

The facility review is based on four priorities supported by the ADA regulations for planning achievable barrier removal projects. The priorities include ensuring accessible approach and entrance to the facility, access to goods and services, access to restrooms, and any other measures necessary.

Note that the references to the Americans with Disabilities Act Accessibility Guidelines (ADAAG) in the Corrective Action column refer to the federal Standards for Design. Title 24 of California Code and Regulations (T24 CCR) is also cited because there are instances when California state law is stricter than ADAAG specifications.

The County must ensure that programs and activities are readily accessible to individuals with disabilities. This includes building accessibility and availability of accessible parking as well as accessibility of public telephones and restrooms.

Regulations cited are from the Title 24, California Code of Regulations (T24 CCR) and ADAAG.

V. PROVISION FOR SERVICES TO APPLICANTS AND RECIPIENTS WHO ARE NON-ENGLISH-SPEAKING OR WHO HAVE DISABILITIES

Counties are required by Division 21 to ensure that effective bilingual/interpretive services are provided to serve the needs of the non-English-speaking population and individuals with disabilities without undue delays. Counties are required to collect data on primary language and ethnic origin of applicants/recipients (identification of primary language must be done by the applicant/recipient).

Using this information, a County may determine 1) the number of public contact staff necessary to provide bilingual services, 2) the manner in which it can best provide interpreter services without bilingual staff and 3) the language needs of individual applicants/recipients. Counties must employ an appropriate number of certified bilingual public contact employees in each program and/or location that serves a substantial number of non-English-speaking persons. In offices where bilingual staff are not required because non-English-speaking persons do not represent a substantial number, counties must provide effective bilingual services through interpreter or other means.

Counties must also provide auxiliary aids and services, including Braille material, taped text, qualified interpreters, large print materials, telecommunication devices for the deaf (TDDs), and other effective aids and services for persons with impaired hearing, speech, vision or manual skills. In addition, counties must ensure that written materials be available in individuals' primary languages if the forms and materials are provided by CDSS in that language, and that information inserted in notices of action (NOA) be in the individuals' primary language.

A. Findings from Program Manager Surveys, Staff Interviews and Case File Reviews

Question: (Please answer yes/no and provide response with comments)	Comments
Does the County identify a client's language need upon first contact? How?	Yes. There is a Greeter stationed at each office to be the first point of contact when a client visits. A client's language is identified by using the "Language Identification Card," completing GEN 22 Form "Documentation of Language Capability and Action Plan", and/or by request of Language Line Interpreter Services (contracted telephone interpreter services) at initial contact.
Does the County use a primary language form?	Yes. The GEN 22 Form "Documentation of Language Capability and Action Plan," which identifies language preference for written and verbal communication, and provided interpreter services are used.
Does the client self-declare on this form?	Yes. A client completes and signs the GEN 22 Form "Documentation of Language Capability and Action Plan." If a client fails to declare, staff will make a determination, offer interpretive services, and document the conversation.

Question: (Please answer yes/no and provide response with comments)	Comments
Are non-English- or limited- English-speaking clients provided bilingual services?	Yes. Clients are provided language services by bilingual staff, in-house translators, or the Language Line. The County has started a pilot program providing face time language interpretive services to clients via an iPad, including American Sign Language.
After it has been determined that the client is limited-English or non-English speaking, is there a County process for procuring an interpreter?	Yes. Clients will be assisted by a certified bilingual staff person, an in-house translator, and/or the Language Line.
Does the County have a contracted language line provider, a county interpreter list, or any other interpreter process?	Yes. The County contracts with the Language Line for telephone interpreter services. Contra Costa has In-house translators and a list of certified bilingual staff is also available.
Is there a delay in providing interpretive services?	Sometimes. Staff interviewed stated language services are readily available via the Language Line or in-house translators. There are some rare dialects that may take longer to access due to available interpreter services.
Are County interpreters certified?	Yes. Staff are certified by the Contra Costa County Human Resources Department.
Does the County have adequate interpreter services?	Yes.
Does the County allow minors to be interpreters? If so, under what circumstances?	Yes. Minors may be used as interpreters only in extenuating circumstances, such as to facilitate language access with staff or in an emergency while the County procures an interpreter.
Does the County allow the client to provide his or her own interpreter?	Yes. The client must complete and sign GEN 22 Form "Documentation of Language Capability and Action Plan" indicating use of their own interpreter and ABCDM 228 Form "Applicant's Authorization for Release of Information" identifying the client-provided interpreter.

Question: (Please answer yes/no and provide response with comments)	Comments
Does the County ensure that the client-provided interpreter understands what is being interpreted for the client?	Yes. Staff interviewed stated they reiterate the information to be translated and ask questions to ensure the understanding of information provided. If there appears to be a lack of understanding, staff will acquire certified interpreter services for translation.
If there is not a Release of Confidentiality Information form, how and where is the client-provided interpreter documented?	The County uses ABCDM 228 Form "Applicant's Authorization for Release of Information."
Does the County use the CDSS-translated forms in the clients' primary languages?	Yes. The County uses CDSS-translated forms in available languages. Also, staff have access to available translated forms in the County's "FormStar" system.
Is the information that is to be inserted into NOA translated into the client's primary language?	Yes. Information is translated in the available primary languages.
If language to be inserted into NOA is not available, is there a procedure to ensure information translated to client's primary language?	Yes. Staff may have information translated and inserted into the NOA in the client's primary language. Also, GEN 1365 Form "Notice of Language Services" is enclosed with any notices, notifying clients that if they do not understand the information sent, they may contact a county worker for free interpreter services.
Does the County provide auxiliary aids and services, TDD's and other effective aids and services for persons with impaired hearing, speech, vision or manual skills, including Braille material, taped text, large print materials (besides the Pub 13)?	Yes. There are several resources available for communications with clients and providing information, such as the California Relay Service, a TDD machine, cassette tapes, CDs, videos, and slides. The County has also implemented an iPad pilot program available for immediate staff and client communication.
Does the County identify a client with a disability (physical, mental, or learning)?	Yes.
Does the County assist clients with self-identifying a disability?	Yes.
Does the County have a policy and procedure in place for assisting clients with a disability (physical, mental, or learning)?	Yes. Staff interviewed have knowledge of the policy and procedure in place for assisting clients with a disability.

Question: (Please answer yes/no and provide response with comments)	Comments
Does the County offer reasonable accommodations to clients with a disability (physical, mental, or learning)?	Yes. Staff interviewed stated they provide the assistance necessary for the client to obtain services or participate in programs.
Does the County identify and assist the client who has learning disabilities or a client who cannot read or write?	Yes. Staff interviewed stated they have assisted clients by reading and explaining information to ensure clients understand what is being given to them. Staff will assist with completing forms for client's signature mark.
Does the County offer a screening for learning disabilities?	Yes.
Is there an established process for offering a screening?	Yes. This screening is offered to clients participating in the CalWORKs program during the Appraisal process, at any time as appropriate, or at the request of the client. The screening may be bypassed if the client has a verified learning disability.
Is the client identified as having a learning disability referred for an evaluation?	Yes. Clients are referred to the Assessment and Intensive Services Unit for evaluation, diagnosis, treatment, and plan development for disability accommodation.

B. Corrective Action: None.

VI. DOCUMENTATION OF APPLICANT/RECIPIENT CASE RECORDS

Counties are required to ensure that case records document applicant's/recipient's ethnic origin and primary language, the method used to provide bilingual services, information that identifies an applicant/recipient as disabled, and an applicant's/recipient's request for auxiliary aids and services.

XIII. CONCLUSION

The CDSS Reviewer found the Contra Costa County Employment and Human Services Department staff warm, welcoming, informative and very supportive. Particular thanks to Yrma Villarreal, Civil Rights Coordinator, for organizing the details of the review, and to Managers and Supervisors, who assisted in each of the facility reviews. In each District Office, staff were very helpful with the facility reviews, case reviews, and computer assistance.

The CDSS Reviewer found the Contra Costa County Department of Social Services in substantial compliance with CDSS Division 21 Regulations, and other applicable state and federal laws. County staff continue to reflect a commitment similar to that expressed by management with respect to ensuring access, assistance, and compliance.

The Contra Costa County Department of Social Services must remedy the deficiencies identified in this report by taking corrective actions. A Corrective Action Plan (CAP) must be received by CDSS within 60 days of the date of the cover letter to this Report; the CAP must include a schedule of all actions that will be taken to correct the deficiencies, and an indication of who will be responsible for implementing the corrective action.

It is CDSS' intent that this Report be used to create a positive interaction between the County and CDSS to identify and correct compliance violations and to provide the County with an opportunity to implement corrective action to achieve compliance with Division 21 regulations. Civil Rights Unit staff is available to provide technical assistance as requested.
